

Dear Customer,

Current developments around Covid-19 (Coronavirus) and the impact on deliveries of Propulsion Systems

We would like to inform you of the Corona guidelines that apply at Propulsion Systems.

We take these measures because the health and well-being of our customers, suppliers, our employees and their families are our number one priority.

- Our departments can be reached by e-mail and telephone between 08:30 and 17:00.
- Orders are still being delivered. Our logistics services and production will be retained as far as possible.
- Visits to our offices and production sites are not permitted for the time being.
- Our field service employees follow up the customers by telephone and are available as you would expect from us.

As always, we are in daily contact with our manufacturers and suppliers worldwide. We maintain close contact with suppliers with production locations in the areas affected by COVID-19. If necessary, we look for alternative ways to guarantee the best possible deliveries to you or to offer alternatives. We follow government recommendations closely.

For specific questions, please contact your contact person at Propulsion Systems.

Kind regards,

Marc Lamberts
CEO Propulsion Systems